Question 3

Question Type: MultipleChoice

Which of the following Convention 108+ principles, as amended in 2018, is NOT consistent with a principle found in the GDPR?

Options:

- A- The obligation of companies to declare data breaches.
- B- The requirement to demonstrate compliance to a supervisory authority.
- C- The necessity of the bulk collection of personal data by the government.

Answer:

C

Explanation:

The Convention 108+ is the modernized version of the Council of Europe Convention for the Protection of Individuals with regard to Automatic Processing of Personal Data, which was opened for signature on 10 October 2018¹. The Convention 108+ aims to reinforce the individuals' protection, strengthen the implementation of the Convention, and promote it as a universal standard for data protection². The Convention 108+ reflects the same principles as those enshrined in the EU's General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR), which applies from 25 May 2018³. Therefore, the Convention 108+ and the GDPR are largely consistent and coherent in their provisions and objectives.

However, one of the principles of the Convention 108+ that is not consistent with a principle found in the GDPR is the necessity of the bulk collection of personal data by the government. The Convention 108+ allows for the possibility of bulk collection of personal data by the government for national security purposes, subject to certain safeguards and oversight mechanisms. The GDPR, on the other hand, does not regulate the processing of personal data by the government for national security purposes, as this falls outside the scope of EU law. The GDPR also does not explicitly endorse the bulk collection of personal data by the government, but rather requires that any processing of personal data must be based on a legal basis, respect the principles of data protection, and ensure the rights and freedoms of data subjects. Therefore, the correct answer is C.

Question 4

Question Type: MultipleChoice

SCENARIO

Please use the following to answer the next question:

ABC Hotel Chain and XYZ Travel Agency are U.S.-based multinational companies. They use an internet-based common platform for collecting and sharing their customer data with each other, in order to integrate their marketing efforts. Additionally, they agree on the data to be stored, how reservations will be booked and confirmed, and who has access to the stored data.

Mike, an EU resident, has booked travel itineraries in the past through XYZ Travel Agency to stay at ABC Hotel Chain's locations. XYZ Travel Agency offers a rewards program that allows customers to sign up to accumulate points that can later be redeemed for free travel. Mike has signed the agreement to be a rewards program member.

Now Mike wants to know what personal information the company holds about him. He sends an email requesting access to his data, in order to exercise what he believes are his data subject rights.

In which of the following situations would ABC Hotel Chain and XYZ Travel Agency NOT have to honor Mike's data access request?

Options:

- A- The request is to obtain access and correct inaccurate personal data in his profile.
- B- The request is to obtain access and information about the purpose of processing his personal data.
- C- The request is to obtain access and erasure of his personal data while keeping his rewards membership.
- D- The request is to obtain access and the categories of recipients who have received his personal data to process his rewards membership.

Answer:

C

Explanation:

According to the GDPR, the data subject has the right to obtain from the controller confirmation as to whether or not personal data concerning him or her are being processed, and, where that is the case, access to the personal data and the following information: (a) the purposes of the processing; (b) the categories of personal data concerned; the recipients or categories of recipients to whom the personal data have been or will be disclosed, in particular recipients in third countries or international organisations; (d) where possible, the envisaged period for which the personal data will be stored, or, if not possible, the criteria used to determine that period; (e) the existence of the right to request from the controller rectification or erasure of personal data or restriction of processing of personal data concerning the data subject or to object to such processing; (f) the right to lodge a complaint with a supervisory authority; (g) where the personal data are not collected from the data subject, any available information as to their source; (h) the existence of automated decision-making, including profiling, referred to in Article 22(1) and (4) and, at least in those cases, meaningful information about the logic involved, as well as the significance and the envisaged consequences of such processing for the data subject¹. The data subject also has the right to obtain from the controller without undue delay the rectification of inaccurate personal data concerning him or her². Therefore, options A, B and D are valid data access requests that ABC Hotel Chain and XYZ Travel Agency have to honor, as they fall within the scope of the right of access and rectification. However, option C is not a valid data access request, as it involves the right to erasure, which is a separate right from the right of access. The right to erasure, also known as the right to be forgotten, entitles the data subject to obtain from the controller the erasure of personal data concerning him or her without undue delay and the controller shall have the obligation to erase personal data without undue delay where one of the following grounds applies: (a) the personal data are no longer necessary in relation to the purposes for which they were collected or otherwise processed; (b) the data subject withdraws consent on which the processing is based according to point (a) of Article 6(1), or point (a) of Article 9(2), and where there is no other legal ground for the processing; the data subject objects to the processing pursuant to Article 21(1) and there are no overriding legitimate grounds for the processing, or the data subject objects to the processing pursuant to Article 21(2); (d) the personal data have been unlawfully processed; (e) the personal data have to be erased for compliance with a legal obligation in Union or Member State law to which the controller is subject; (f) the personal data have been collected in relation to the offer of information society services referred to in Article 8(1)³. However, the right to erasure is not absolute and does not apply where processing is necessary: (a) for exercising the right of freedom of expression and information; (b) for compliance with a legal obligation which requires processing by Union or Member State law to which the controller is subject or for the performance of a task carried out in the public interest or in the exercise of official authority vested in the controller; for reasons of public interest in the area of public health in accordance with points (h) and (i) of Article 9(2) as well as Article 9(3); (d) for archiving purposes in the public interest, scientific or historical research purposes or statistical purposes in accordance with Article 89(1) in so far as the right referred to in paragraph 1 is likely to render impossible or seriously impair the achievement of the objectives of that processing; or (e) for the establishment, exercise or defence of legal claims⁴. In this scenario, Mike's request to obtain access and erasure of his personal data while keeping his rewards membership is not a valid data access request, as it contradicts the right to erasure. If Mike wants to exercise his right to erasure, he has to withdraw his consent for the processing of his personal data by ABC Hotel Chain and XYZ Travel Agency, which means that he cannot keep his rewards membership, as it is based on the processing of his personal data. Moreover, ABC Hotel Chain and XYZ Travel Agency may have other legal grounds for retaining his personal data, such as compliance with a legal obligation or the establishment, exercise or defence of legal claims. Therefore, option C is the correct answer, as it is the only situation where ABC Hotel Chain and XYZ Travel Agency do not have to honor Mike's data access request. Question 5

SCENARIO

Please use the following to answer the next question:

ABC Hotel Chain and XYZ Travel Agency are U.S.-based multinational companies. They use an internet-based common platform for collecting and sharing their customer data with each other, in order to integrate their marketing efforts. Additionally, they agree on the data to be stored, how reservations will be booked and confirmed, and who has access to the stored data.

Mike, an EU resident, has booked travel itineraries in the past through XYZ Travel Agency to stay at ABC Hotel Chain's locations. XYZ Travel Agency offers a rewards program that allows customers to sign up to accumulate points that can later be redeemed for free travel. Mike has signed the agreement to be a rewards program member.

Now Mike wants to know what personal information the company holds about him. He sends an email requesting access to his data, in order to exercise what he believes are his data subject rights.

What are ABC Hotel Chain and XYZ Travel Agency's roles in this relationship?

Options:

- A- ABC Hotel Chain is the controller and XYZ Travel Agency is the processor.
- B- XYZ Travel Agency is the controller and ABC Hotel Chain is the processor.
- C- ABC Hotel Chain and XYZ Travel Agency are independent controllers.
- D- ABC Hotel Chain and XYZ Travel Agency are joint controllers.

Answer:

D

Explanation:

ABC Hotel Chain and XYZ Travel Agency are joint controllers in this relationship, because they jointly determine the purposes and means of the processing of personal data of their customers. According to Article 26 of the GDPR, joint controllers are two or more controllers who jointly participate in the decision-making process regarding the processing of personal data¹. In this scenario, ABC Hotel Chain and XYZ Travel Agency use a common platform for collecting and sharing customer data, and they agree on the data to be stored, how reservations will be booked and confirmed, and who has access to the stored data. Therefore, they have a common influence on the processing of personal data and share a common objective of integrating their marketing efforts. Moreover, they offer a rewards program that allows customers to sign up to accumulate points that can be redeemed for free travel, which implies a joint benefit from the processing of personal data.

The other options are not correct because they do not reflect the actual roles of ABC Hotel Chain and XYZ Travel Agency in this relationship. A controller is a natural or legal person who alone or jointly with others determines the purposes and means of the processing of personal data². A processor is a natural or legal person who processes personal data on behalf of the controller³. In this scenario, neither ABC Hotel Chain nor XYZ Travel Agency act solely or on behalf of the other in processing the personal data of their customers. Rather, they act together in a collaborative manner and share the responsibility and accountability for the processing of personal data. Therefore, they are joint controllers, not independent controllers or controller and processor. Reference:

Question 6

Question Type: Multiple Choice

SCENARIO

Please use the following to answer the next question:

ABC Hotel Chain and XYZ Travel Agency are U.S.-based multinational companies. They use an internet-based common platform for collecting and sharing their customer data with each other, in order to integrate their marketing efforts. Additionally, they agree on the data to be stored, how reservations will be booked and confirmed, and who has access to the stored data.

Mike, an EU resident, has booked travel itineraries in the past through XYZ Travel Agency to stay at ABC Hotel Chain's locations. XYZ Travel Agency offers a rewards program that allows customers to sign up to accumulate points that can later be redeemed for free travel. Mike has signed the agreement to be a rewards program member.

Now Mike wants to know what personal information the company holds about him. He sends an email requesting access to his data, in order to exercise what he believes are his data subject rights.

What is the time period in which Mike should receive a response to his request?

Options:

- A- Not more than one month of receipt of Mike's request.
- B- Not more than two months after verifying Mike's identity.
- C- When all the information about Mike has been collected.
- D- Not more than thirty days after submission of Mike's request.

Answer:

A

Explanation:

:According to the GDPR, the right of access by the data subject is one of the rights granted to individuals to obtain information about the processing of their personal data by a data controller¹.The data controller must provide a copy of the personal data undergoing processing and additional information, such as the purposes, the categories, the recipients, the retention period, the rights, the source, and the automated decision-making of the processing¹.The data controller must also inform the data subject of the existence of the right to access and the means to exercise it².

The GDPR also specifies the time limit for responding to a data subject access request.The data controller must provide the information without undue delay and in any event within one month of receipt of the request¹.This period may be extended by two further months where necessary, taking into account the complexity and number of the requests, but the data controller must inform the data subject of any such extension within one month of receipt of the request, together with the reasons for the delay¹.The data controller must also verify the identity of the data subject before providing the information, but this verification should not extend the time limit for responding to the request³.

In this scenario, Mike is an EU resident who has booked travel itineraries through XYZ Travel Agency and stayed at ABC Hotel Chain's locations. Both companies are U.S.-based multinational companies that use a common platform for collecting and sharing their customer data. Mike has signed the agreement to be a rewards program member of XYZ Travel Agency. Mike wants to know what personal information the company holds about him and sends an email requesting access to his data.

Assuming that both companies are subject to the GDPR, either because they offer goods or services to individuals in the EU or because they monitor the behavior of individuals in the EU⁴, they must comply with the right of access by the data subject and provide Mike with the information he requests. The time period in which Mike should receive a response to his request is not more than one month of receipt of his request, unless there are grounds for extending the period by two further months. The companies must also verify Mike's identity before providing the information, but this verification should not affect the time limit for responding to the request.

Therefore, the correct answer is A. Not more than one month of receipt of Mike's request.
